SONGS OF SALVATION LAY UP TREASURE IN HEAVEN

Lay up treasure in Heaven,
Though men count thee poor
Lay up treasure in abundant measure
For the great accounting day.

BOUNDLESS MERCY.
Large Song Book, 78: "Take Salvation," 171; "Blessed Lord," 163.

Boundless is the mighty ocean,
Rolling on from pole to pole,
Is the boundless love of Jesus
To the weary, sinful soul—
Boundless mercy,
Making guilty sinners whole.

Boundless as the fiery heavens,
Filled with the glory of light,
Are the promises of Jesus
For the soul in nature's night:
Ever shining,
Thou our faith is changed to sight.

Boundless as eternal ages,
As the air we breathe as free,
Is the boundless full Salvation
Jesus purchased on the tree—
Boundless cleansing
From all sin's impurity.

Boundless is the grace to save us,
Boundless is the blood to cleanse us,
Boundless is the power to keep us!
Hallelujah!
Boundless praises never shall end!

THE WONDROUS CROSS.
Large Song Book, 5: "It Was on the Cross," 8; "Thy Will Be Done," 18.

When I survey the wondrous cross
On which the Prince of Glory died,
My richest gain I count but loss,
And dear Christ, I prize thee more.

Grace is flowing like a river,
Millions there have been supplied;
Still it flows as fresh as ever,
From the Savior's wounded side;
None need perish; all may live,
For Christ hath died.

And pour contempt on all my pride.
See from His head, His hands, His feet,
Sorrow and love flow mingled down;
Did e'er such love and sorrow meet,
Or thorns compose so rich a crown?

Were the whole realm of nature mine,
That were a present far too small;
Love so amazing, so divine,
Demands my soul, my life, my all.

GRACE FOR ALL.
Large Song Book, 35: "Take Salvation," 170; "Calvary," 164.

Hark! the Gospel news is sounding,
Christ has suffered on the tree;
Streams of mercy are abounding,
Grace for all is rich and free.
Now, poor sinner, look to Him who died for thee.

Or, escape to yonder mountain!
Refuge find in Him to-day;
Christ invites you to the fountain,
Come and wash your sins away;
Do not tarry, come to Jesus while you may.

And all this they owed to the dear Friend who was now in their midst. The gladness of Mary's heart could not be contained, but broke out into a beautiful act of devotion. The fragrance of gratitude will pervade our lives, like the odor of Mary's ointment when we are mindful of what we owe to Him who has called us and all our fellow believers out of darkness into the light of life.

Lieut-Colonel Bettridge Leads Week-End Meetings—Three Seekers.

The week-end meetings for December 18th and 19th were led by Lieut-Colonel Bettridge.

From the very first opening on Saturday night until the last meeting on Sunday night we can praise God for victory.

The Colonel's address on Sunday morning was backed home with power, and at the close we had the joy of seeing one beautiful young life consecrating her all to God.

In the afternoon the Colonel paid a visit to the Hospital, and his kind words and sympathy and prayers made a deep impression on all in the ward. Amongst the patients was one of our own comrades, who is now able to get on again.

At night the Colonel gave a powerful address, telling two souls kneeling at the penitential form.

The Corps is progressing fine under the leadership of our Officers.

EARLS COURT (TORONTO).

Good Christmas Demonstration—Six Seekers on Sunday.

On December 23 we held our Young People's Christmas demonstration, which was a great success through the efforts put forth by our Company Guards and Mrs. Ensign Parsons. The most interesting item on the programme was the Yule log, which represented ten different countries. Another pretty item was the "Sunshine Band of Love," which was done exceedingly well. The Primary, under the direction of Company Guard Jean Brown, was also another pleasing feature, which was called "Christmas Lights."

We had a blessed time this week-end, when, in the Young People's meeting, we had the joy of seeing three children giving their hearts to God, in our Salvation meeting (three souls saved at the mercy-seat)—J. H.

WALLACEBURG.

Corps Cadets Lead Sunday Meetings—One Seeker.

On Corps Cadet Sunday the meetings all through the day were led by the Corps Cadets.

Corps Cadet Guardian Lieutenant Tucker took the Holiness lesson, Corps Cadet Grace Keeling the praise meeting, and Corps Cadet Beatrice Keeling the night meeting. At the close of the service we had one soul at the mercy-seat.

We have five Corps Cadets at our Corps.

We held our Christmas demonstration on December 21st. We had with us Captain Squirebriggs and Lieutenant Marshall of Christian Hostel. We spent a very enjoyable evening. The Hall was packed to the doors, and a good many people were standing—G. R.

On Sunday, January 2, three souls knelt at the mercy-seat. Our Life-Saving Scouts are progressing under Scout Leader Walker. On New Year's night we had a Band and Songster's tea—G. R.

Lieut-Colonel and Mrs. Noble Lead Sunday Meetings—Ten Seekers.

Missionary Officers Conduct Week-End Meetings—Claims of India and Burma Presented.

The services on Sunday, January 2, were conducted by Adjutant and Mrs. Hood, who are furloughing here after seven years' labour in the missionary fields of India and Burma. Mrs. Hood is an old Soldier of this Corps, and she was warmly welcomed back after an absence of a number of years. We were also very glad to see Ensign Beal of Territorial Headquarters, Captain Pearl and Herbert Layton, and Cadet Parnell, all of whom are former Soldiers of this Corps. In addition we had the pleasure of a visit from Cadet Ivy Brown of Toronto, Commandant and Mrs. McElheney dropped in during the day and renewed old acquaintances, bringing back to many comrades happy memories of good times spent together.

During the day Adjutant and Mrs. Hood spoke of their work in the Far East, and gave a very graphic description of some of the customs of the people among whom they had laboured. As we listened to their thrilling stories of sin and slavery, and the terrible results following in their train, we were given a far wider insight into the terrible need for Soldiers of Jesus to take the good news to these poor benighted peoples.

In the afternoon a splendid Musical Festival was given by the Temple Band, assisted by some of the visiting comrades. A violin solo by Cadet Brown and cornet solo by Captain Herbert Layton, also vocal solos by Ensign Iker and Cadet Parnell were enthusiastically received by a large audience. We believe that although the service was particularly of a musical nature that the items were rendered for the glory of God, and, therefore, cannot fail to bear fruit for eternity.

At night the meeting was commenced in a spirit of faith and holy zeal, and this spirit continued throughout. Captain Pearl Patton gave an interesting little talk, and testified very definitely to the life-giving power and sustaining grace of God which had enabled her to remain faithful through hard work and difficulties during her term of Officership.

After a well-fought prayer meeting we had the joy of seeing a Backslider seek reconciliation with God.

At our Watch Night service, which was well attended, the Soldiers present mutually reconciled themselves to God for fresh service in the coming year. Adjutant and Mrs. Burton are leading us on to victory—C.C.

MIMICO.

A bright and helpful Watch Night Service was conducted by our Officers. Testimonies given by the different comrades were inspiring and encouraging. We had a very good attendance at this service.

On Sunday, January 2, Captain McElheney was in charge of the Salvation meeting, and her talk was delivered with real earnestness, and was a means of helping us to do more for God during this year. We are looking forward to the "Great Call Campaign" being a success in our town—C.C.

united Soldiers' tea and helpful spiritual gathering, presided over by Adjutant and Mrs. Snowden, on New Year's night.

On Sunday Lieut-Colonel and Mrs. Noble conducted stirring services, which were attended by large crowds. A great feature of these gatherings was the singing of the male voice choir, which made its first appearance, and stirred the congregation with their soul-stirring voices.

Throughout the week-end the Colonel was ably assisted by Cadets Shepherd and John and Bert Wool (former Soldiers of this Corps). The comrades were greatly helped and inspired by their testimonies, and the splendid spiritual progress they are making.

Our week-end totals amounted to nine Juniors and one Senior at the Cross. The Corps comrades are delighted with the Junior and Senior Hall, which now present a clean and refreshing appearance after the renovation. Already we notice a great increase in our congregation as a result.

MONTON.

Adjutant and Mrs. Hurd led the meetings on Sunday, December 26, assisted by Adjutant and Mrs. Ellis. In this afternoon Brother and Sister Smith sang together, and Wm. Smith solo. A cornet solo was rendered by Bandmaster Deadman—C.C.

MONTREAL 1.

Impressive Enrollment Service Conducted by Lieut-Colonel Bettridge, Who Charges New Soldiers to be Good Fighters For God.

Our usual week-end meetings were well attended. On Sunday evening we welcomed Brother Leslie Sharpe from the Old Country. He is the son of Major Frank A. Sharpe, of the Subscribers' Department, International Headquarters, and has come to take up a post on the Immigration Department in Montreal.

On Monday night the Divisional Commander, Lieut-Colonel Bettbridge, conducted a very impressive enrollment service before a good number of comrades and friends. Sergeant Major Colley led in prayer. The Colonel gave a stirring charge to new Soldiers. "Be strong in Christ Jesus," he said; "the Soldiers of God. Do not lack strength; you may not be gifted with other talents, but you can resist strength in Jesus Christ. Whatever your talents may be you can show during the grace in Christ is first. Do not think that the path of a Salvation Soldier is going to be a bed of roses, you will have hardships to endure, Satan will oppose you, will try all manner of ways, will try and cool you down and make you indifferent. He will tell you not to trouble about uniforms, will tell you you will have to endure hardness, will tell you that the Cross will be heavy; but associate with Jesus Christ, endure hardships like Soldiers of Christ, wear uniform for Jesus Christ; march, sing, play, testify, in fact, do all things for Jesus Christ and not alone for the Army. Then you will find that in serving Him all will be well, and His grace will be sufficient."

Then five Juniors and six Recruits were called upon to confess publicly that they were determined to fight in the ranks of the Army. On their knees they sang "I'll be true, Lord, to Thee." Mrs. Adjutant McDonald prayed that the new comrades should be a channel of blessing.

The Colonel presented each with an illuminated "Articles of War," and Sergeant Major Colley extended a welcome to them on behalf of the Corps.

What about the cart-wheel town? Not dead by any means. Lately fourteen took their place at Jesus' feet. The Scouts are organized and Captain Bowers is dancing happy. It has been a great day, but the clouds have broken and Godrich is beginning to revive its youth.

Seniors is a hard grind, but we can only move that Hall towards the centre of the town it will also blossom as the rose. Captain Kirbyson has put up a good fight and God will reward him.

At Wingham Captain Eva Smith and Lieutenant Lightowler are full of faith.

St. Mary's has a nice Hall and Quarters, a good crowd of Soldiers. Captain Pickering and Lieutenant Clark have put up a splendid fight here, and have now come to pastures new. They were much loved, and their labour of love is fragrant. Two young lads were recently enrolled as Soldiers.

Stratford is now beautifully

WESTVILLE, N.S.

We had Brigadier and Mrs. Walton with us for the week-end, December 18 and 19. In spite of the cold weather the crowds were good. Much blessing was experienced. On Sunday night the Brigadier spoke with great power. Two souls surrendered. The visit of Brigadier and Mrs. Walton proved of great inspiration and blessing to all who heard them.

(The prize for the best Corps report this week goes to Peterboro.)

LONDON DIVISIONAL NOTES

Good News of Soul-saving and Soldier-making at Many Corps—Young People's Work is Progressing—One Hundred and Thirty-five Christmas Baskets Distributed at London.

By BRIGADIER CRICHTON

ALL round the Division the battle rages, souls are getting converted and Soldiers taking their stand.

Chatham is having great times of blessing. Forty-two souls in four weeks and all promising well for Soldierhood is no small thing.

Kingville, the Baby Corps, is advancing, and conversions average seven per week. All are taking a good stand in the open-air and inside. Captain Haynes and Lieutenant McEldred are full of hope. Crowds fill the Hall at meetings. A Quarters is needed, and hopes are entertained that the want will be supplied soon.

Clinton is moving in the right direction. A number of Young People are getting saved and taking their stand. Lately I had the joy of enrolling a backslider of twenty-eight years' wandering. That was the happiest night for him for some years. The old Soldiers are encouraged, and say, this is like old times to go out with a crowd to open-air.

transferred to the Heavenly Land, Praise God for a faithful and well-lived life.

What about the City of London? Young people, as well as old, are taking their stand at Nos. 1, 11, and 111. They are all moving in the right direction and improving. Hope soon to be able to open No. 11.

Strathroy is also showing life, and under Captain Laycock and Lieutenant Laird, is getting on top.

Christmas was a busy time. The pots and appeals did better than the last. One hundred and thirty-five loaded baskets and bags were distributed, giving great pleasure and help. The "Free Press" bags for the children were a great success. It meant a lot of hard work, but all enjoyed their Christmas the better for it. The gifts were useful, and those who were fortunate to receive the same will enjoy solid comfort during the winter.

INCIDENT COMPETITION

Varied Calls Upon Salvation Army Officers.

The variety of demands which are made upon Salvation Army Officers is exemplified in an experience recently by Ensign Leech, the Officer in charge of Dovercourt Corps.

Amongst the callers upon the Ensign one day was a man whose wife had gone away and left him with two children to take care of. Could the Army advise or help in any way?

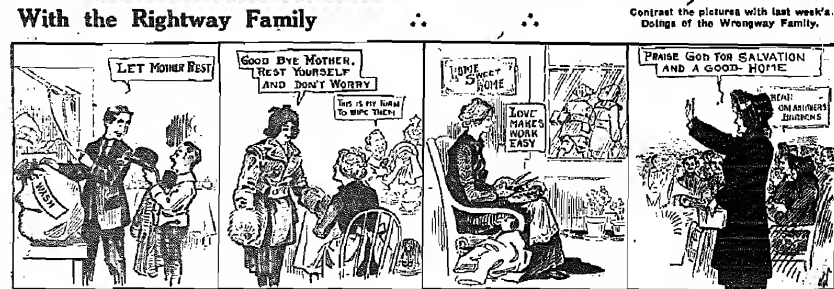

While talking things over with this unfortunate man, the Ensign was called to the phone to speak with some one, who, being about to marry, wished the Officer to conduct the wedding ceremony.

Settling this question to the satisfaction of the applicant, the Ensign returned to the man with the motherless children, and was making some progress in a preliminary arrangement when another caller came. This was a mother whose baby had died, and she had called in person to beg the Ensign to conduct the funeral.

Barely had this matter been arranged before the Ensign was wanted again; this time by a boy who had been sent to say that his mother was dead, and would the Officer bury her?

The part a Salvation Army Officer plays in the life of the people can be imagined when one becomes even so slightly acquainted with the calls to which they are subject. They glory in the opportunity of extending the helping hand, and invariably show themselves possessed of big hearts as well as level heads.

Contrast the pictures with last week's. Solings of the Wrongway Family.

What a difference in the morning! What a difference all day! What a difference in the evening! Hallelujah!

THE SALVATION ARMY WITH ITS COAT OFF

While in Czechoslovakia, Colonel Ranch also met Colonel Braine, Secretary for Relief Work amongst the starving children of Central Europe, and all that the visitor saw of this work convinced him that not only are the poor helped by the well-organized distribution of milk and clothing, but a spirit of appreciation is being created in many hearts which is paving the way for work of a more lasting and spiritual character.

REMARKABLE EXPERIENCES OF SALVATIONISTS

A bishop, with whose mother the Commissioner had been acquainted during his stay in Japan some years ago, rushed across the road and said, "I must shake hands with the Salvation Army. I met your people in France, and I admired their work there so much that I feel I want to greet them whenever we meet!" Two hundred people gathered for the meeting which was held in the afternoon.

Unfortunate home influence has almost spoilt their chances of becoming God-fearing citizens. SALVATION WAS NEWFOUNDLAND

TERRITORIAL NOTES

Staff-Captain and Mrs. Thompson's visit resulted in five souls at the Cross, and a real old-fashioned finish to a real blessed Sabbath.—Cadet H. C. Bowring.

The Governor, Mr. Parsons, sent word to say that for this special occasion our service could be extended fifteen minutes, which we took advantage of.

• Serget-Major Parsons, Twillingate.

The Adjutant based some fitting remarks on, "I have fought a good fight." The brethren of the I.O.O.F., including the Black Preceptory, followed by the Salvation Army Corps in full strength, marched ahead of the bier, followed by the mourners and a large following of sympathizers.

Colonel and Mrs. Martin did not forget the comrades and inmates of the Rescue Home. They went on Christmas Day and took a little cheer to them, which was greatly enjoyed.

Staff-Captain Thompson, the Chancellor, lined out the first song, and Young People's Sergt.-Major Howell prayed.

This demonstration was different to many others, as all who took part were children under twelve. The eighteen small girls who did the drill caused a good deal of give the friends the seats. The Ensign has made some improvement in the seating capacity of his Hall by moving the platform back and taking in the Band Room

Colonel Martin conducted the Sunday night meeting at No. 1. Although the night was very stormy, yet a good crowd was there, and the Colonel delivered a very stirring message, which resulted in two souls at the Cross in the prayer meeting.

GRAND FALLS

The A. N. D. Company sent us a very nice letter at Christmas, acknowledging us the compliments of the season, with a cheque enclosed for the amount of one thousand dollars. On Christmas morning the Band in their scorching brought in $152. A night the children gave their Christmas donations and the company gave credit to Mrs. Gower and the Company Guards, and netted the sum of $269. All moneys raised this year over our expenses are to go toward the new Young People's Hall. By the spring we hope to have found the needed dollars in sight, and hope to have the Hall finished early in the summer.

HURLING

We are having good times, under the leadership, of Envy and Mr. Saunders, who are doing all in their power to keep the fire burning. A number of souls have been saved since they took charge, and on recent Sunday night we had the joy of seeing three souls at the Cross.

We also held a pound meeting when the amount of 171 pounds of meat and groceries were brought along. God bless the givers.

Our Christmas demonstration was a success, and much credit is due to Cadet Abbott, our teacher, and Miss Gertie French, who took so much pains to practice the children.

THE CHIEF SECRETARY

Leads Victorious Fight for Souls at Hamilton 1.—Fourteen Seekers Kneel at Mercy-seat.

The visit of Colonel and Mrs. McMillan to Hamilton 1. on Sunday, January 2, will be remembered for a long time. From beginning to end there was a very marked freedom of movement, and the good spirit prevailing undoubtedly added greatly to the success of the day's campaign.

No one could listen to the convincing address of the Chief Secretary and the heart talk of Mrs. McMillan in the holiness meeting without realizing the importance and necessity of a personal knowledge and experience of full Salvation. The entire congregation responded to an appeal for a consecration of themselves to God for service.

Before the afternoon service the Colonel visited the Young People, who were delighted to see him, and who listened attentively to his words of advice.

The Senior meeting reminded one of the old-fashioned free and easy meetings, which used to stir our souls. This particular meeting compares favourably with that type, and to have heard the glowing optimistic testimonies from all parts of the building was in itself a benediction. One of the outstanding features was the splendid talks of the Hamilton 1. men. Colonel and Mrs. McMillan in the Training College have made for their mental and spiritual development in a marked degree.

The Hall was packed at night. A burning desire for souls was expressed in the prayer of Mrs. Adjutant Best. The singing of the Soldiers, the playing of the Band, the appeal of Mrs. McMillan, the soul-stirring address of the Chief Secretary, all had their effect, and much conviction was upon the people.

The prayer meeting began with the faith of the Officers and Soldiers, keyed up to cheering victory, and in response to the appeal of Lieut. Colonel Hargrave a man from the gallery volunteered for Salvation. In all fourteen souls came to the mercy-seat, two of them children. It is a pleasure to state that Officers, Soldiers, Bandmen, and Singers worked with a will and stuck to it to the last. The Chief Secretary, the Divisional Commander, and Adjutant Cuy led the prayer meetings in turn, while Mrs. McMillan, Mrs. Lieut. Colonel Hargrave, Mrs. Adjutant Best, and others were busy helping.

The Chief Secretary and Mrs. McMillan were supported by Lieut. Colonel and Mrs. Hargrave, Adjutant and Mrs. Best, Commandant Mrs. Hargrave, Adjutant and Mrs. Richie, Adjutant and Mrs. Harding, and Captain Otway.

BROCK AVE. (TORONTO)

Six Seekers on Sunday.

Good work-out meetings were conducted by Adjutant and Mrs. Forbes. The two Cadets who wait out of the Corps were present and took an active part in the meetings. They are Cadets Myrtle King and Harold Hawker. In the holiness meeting one sister came forward for a clean heart and at night five seekers knelt in the mercy-seat.

Brother Brooks from Dovercourt has become a minister, and Captain Watkins is the new Young People's Sergeant-Major.

Watch Night in Toronto

THE COMMISSIONER AT THE TEMPLE

MANY varied have been the meetings held in the Temple during the year which closed on Friday last. Some of these have been recorded, and a glance through the year's "War Cry" would assuredly provide food for much interesting thought. Sometimes these meetings have been of the more demonstrative kind, others again were marked by quietness of character, yet all have contributed to a year of splendid service in the Salvation War.

A Serious Vein.

Not a few of the more important gatherings have been directed by Commissioner Richards, and he it was who led on the occasion with which this report deals. It was the last meeting in the old year, the Watch Night service, and followed as this meeting always is with holy associations, it was no surprise to find a serious vein of thought prevailing in most minds. It was no judge from the snatches of conversation overheard as comrades met outside or welcomed the stranger, while filing into the Hall.

Outside all was hushed and excitement over the pending elections, inside an atmosphere of calm, suggestive of meditation, of prayer, was positively soothing to the soul. "Surely God is in this place," was the unspoken conviction which many must have shared.

The congregation which had gathered was large and representative, composed mostly of men and women of serious mind, as befitted the hour, their faces for the most part stamped with peace.

God Honouring Occasion. Trust the Commissioner to make it a God-honouring occasion, a help to the soul, a help to the heart, he had them singing that soul-stirring prayer:

Burn out every selfish thought. Let Thy will in me be wrought; Turn my love into a flame, Send a Pentecost to me.

Teach me how to fight and win Perfect victory over sin; Give me a compassion deep, That will for lost sinners weep. That henceforth my life may prove That I serve Thee out of love.

In few, but significant, words our Leader laid down lines upon which the night must run to its inevitable close, and pointed out how little all would profit if God were not central in our thoughts. A short season of prayer followed, after which Mrs. Commissioner Richards presided in words full of deep feeling, her thanks to God for sparing her to see that day and to bring her to life in His glory. She urged upon all the importance of self-examination, the ready recognition of shortcomings and sins broken and brought all who realized their need to make the most of that opportunity by a fresh consecration. For herself she had no desire other than to live for God. She was glad for the opportunity given to women of doing great things for Him, and her soul's longing was that the New Year might be one of service and blessing, with the consequent drawing of many hearts to Him.

A solo by Lieut. Colonel Ashby moved the mass of people near Heaven, and then the Commissioner stood forward again, and from the Bible read Paul's words concerning "the cloud of witnesses." Citing a number of Bible characters, whose record as "freemen" is beyond question, he indicated the source of strength by which they overcame. He expressed his conviction that it was a good thing to suffer upon the cross, and that the warriors of the V.C. in spiritual fighting—had declared it would be good for all to do so more often than was usually the case.

Abide By the Rules. By way of showing the need of being practical, even in spiritual things, the Commissioner pointed out how Paul, in using the race as a figure, made clear his readiness to comply with the conditions thereof, to abide by the rules. Eagerly our entering the heavenly race, said the Commissioner, must run according to the rules; otherwise had to be endured, difficulties had to be overcome. The athletes who went into the race went in with a purpose, a purpose to win, and he who enters the race without a purpose to win is a failure.

The spiritual application of this and other points one after another followed in quick succession. Practical thoughts were helpfully expressed in running comments upon the great race, the conditions for which had been laid down by Christ Himself. The Commissioner's line of thought was all-embracing, and there could scarcely have been a listener whose need was not within the stimulation of the "come follow" and surely there were few present who did not with all their hearts assent to the Commissioner's earnest declaration, "I want to enter into a new covenant, a place myself as fresh at His disposal for the coming years."

Reference to the Week of Prayer, of which the Commissioner presided, was made, and a prayer was offered by the Commissioner, and a united voice brought this memorable meeting in an appropriate close.

LISGAR STREET. There was a good attendance at Lisgar Street, where the Chief Secretary and Mrs. McMillan were in the evening, assisted by Major Burrows and the Corps Officers. Commandant and Mrs. Cameron, glowing testimonies were given by several comrades, who told of victories gained during the past year, and expressed their determination to go forward confidently in the erection of the superstructure for the year called to build a temple unto God.

As the New Year was ushered in engaged in silent prayer, Major Burrows then gave New Year greetings to the congregation.

yet in the experience of all. Mrs. Commissioner Cameron also spoke briefly, thanking God for the blessings of the past, and saying she was looking forward to a year of greater victories.

DOVERCOURT.

The Dovercourt Hall was nicely filled. Colonel Jackson being in charge. Some bright and happy testimonies were given by members of comrades. The Colonel's topic was "Reconciliation," and he urged all not to let the old year pass out before they had resolved to abandon all grudges and bitterness of feeling towards others. A number stood up for consecration to God's service, and to claim purity and power.

The Sunday meetings were led by Evelyn and Mrs. Leech, and two seekers knelt at the mercy-seat. This Corps has recently given two Bandmasters, a Young People's Sergeant-Major, and a Songster Leader to other Corps.

"IN PRISON AND"

Dovercourt Band Visits Langstaff.

One of the more gracious services rendered by the Salvation Army must be credited to Dovercourt Band, for the visit paid to Langstaff Hall on Thursday evening.

Hurrying straight from work, in many instances, in order to catch the car for the journey, these comrades reached the prison in good time, and, under the leadership of Bandmaster Pearce, gave the inmates of this institution close on a couple of hours' enjoyment of no ordinary character.

Colonel McMillan was in charge of the proceedings, which is only another way of saying that they were run on cheerful and helpful lines. Brigadier Fraser and Commandant Macintosh, familiar figures in this and other parts, were welcomed a warm reception by the inmates, as was Lieut. Colonel Otway, secretary for the Men's Social Work.

The various items rendered by the band, together with vocal and instrumental solos, were all of a high character, and evidently afforded the greatest pleasure to the men, who, whatever their faults may be, are at any rate human, and as a consequence open to the uplifting influence accompanying the effort of hearty music.

An incident in the program was a speech by Major Morrison, the Prison Superintendent, who expressed the warm appreciation of himself and the men for the visit of the band. Referring to the work done in the prison, the Major said that he believed the work of the Army Officers associated with the goal, and gave it as his reason for being glad that without the Army's aid nothing like so good a showing would have been possible.

He especially referred to the release of men in the "In-Council" meeting, where the men are released daily for work in parole, the wages earned being collected by the Salvation Army for the benefit of the men, and the men are released daily for work in parole, the wages earned being collected by the Salvation Army for the benefit of the men, and the men are released daily for work in parole, the wages earned being collected by the Salvation Army for the benefit of the men.

The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of "The Lord's Prayer," and the men were dismissed to their cells. The men were very much interested in the meeting, and many of them were very much interested in the meeting, and many of them were very much interested in the meeting.

May the needed grace be given these men to live new lives, and may the memory of the visit of Dovercourt Band be a blessing to them.

THE PRAYING LEAGUE

RESTLESSNESS AND LIFE'S LIGHTER SIDE

By Mrs. Blanche R. Johnston.

There has been much disappointment expressed in many directions because the after-war conditions are not such as many had expected. No doubt their hopes were based upon a mistaken idea, and a lack of knowledge of, or forgetfulness of, the history of life in other days.

Constantly were heard expressions such as: "Oh we will have a revival after the war," "Social lines will be obliterated after the war," "People will be more unselfish after the war," because of the sacrifice made during the terrible strife. One need not be a pessimist to feel that many of these hopes are far from realization.

State of Unrest.

Many causes contribute towards this condition, and a state of unrest and deplorable selfishness so often observed. Only one reason can be touched upon here, and that is briefly and suggestively. We must first recognize the obvious fact that war in itself does not lead people to God or righteousness. A revival is possible only when the people yield to the operation of the Holy Spirit and become submissive to His power and gracious of sin, and its only panacea Christ.

The people have been under tremendous strain and pressure. And when the tension has been removed, the psychological science has been a mad rush into paths of pleasure and self-gratification.

Day, Money's Motion Picture. These are the general topics of conversation overheard everywhere as one travels about. What is the best? People are unsatisfied. People have been weary—war weary, and sick at heart.

This must be recognized sympathetically; understandingly; we must not pass unkind or hostile judgments. We must not condemn women, and unseemly participation in questionable pastimes, but being cognizant of the need of mental relaxation, we should carefully study how, in the spirit of true love, which is understanding, we can direct in so far as individual influence extends, the question of recreation. This will be difficult—very difficult, perhaps—nothing can be more so. Standards vary, tastes differ.

His Dear Children.

But it is wise to remember that the Heavenly Father looks upon the human race as His dear children, and in His love and knowledge of His children's natures and requirements desires their happiness.

It is the true source of real happiness, but He is willing that His children have their play time. The question forces itself upon the honest student of the "War Cry" who plays? Herein the workers of Canada must be wise in condemning all play they will turn the heart of youth away from interests, and it may drive them into paths of danger. No question is of greater importance to Christians than the question of play. An English writer asks the question: "I have no objection to the eight hours of labour scheme, but what are the people going to do with the other sixteen hours?" The tripartite nature of the human unit has physical, intellectual, and spiritual sides which must be met; or ill-humour will prevail, and the younger people, as well as the more mature, will seek satisfaction in recreations and pleasures which may prove harmful instead of stimulating to right actions and wholesome pure daily living and service.

MEN'S SOCIAL NOTES

Progress in Industrial Work—Relief Work in Toronto—Souls Saved at Meeting in Hotel

BY LIEUT. COLONEL OTWAY

THE City Government of Toronto have been practically eliminated, the whole Social machinery in order to meet the great need. The following Officers have been loaned to the city at the Salvation Army east during the crisis: Brigadier Fraser, Commandant McElhenny, Commandant Campbell, Captain Hunt, Staff-Captain Bross, Staff-Captain McNamara. For one week also ten Cadets assisted the city nurses to investigate the cases.

The old Military Hotel, under the charge of Captain Hunt and his assistants, provides beds for the men whose cards are endorsed by the city authorities. Last week 1,500 beds were provided. In addition to these 840 beds were provided at the Salvation Army Metropole and Men's Home.

The annual Christmas supper and meeting of the Toronto Industrial Department took place on Wednesday last, about eighty Officers and employees, with their wives and children, were present and spent an enjoyable evening. The Commissioner, with Mrs. Richards, presided, supported by Mrs. Colonel McMillan and the Men's Social Secretary, also Lieut. Colonel Hargrave, Lieut. Colonel Ashby, and Lieut. Colonel and Mrs. Perry.

Major Burrows, in introducing the Commissioner, presented his annual report, showing that the past year had seen many advances, notably the following: Six new auto trucks purchased; a new electric heater for paper installed, capable of doing five times the work of the old machine; a large new store opened on Richmond Street, where last week $800 was taken, being twice the amount of the old store. The Major also referred to the work provided for men, and the clothing given free to the very needy.

The Commissioner gave a stirring report that the city, in recognition of the Salvation Army work, have given a grant of $800. This is highly appreciated.

Activity in all departments marks the work of the Men's Social, and the New Year promises to be productive of very gratifying results.

IMMIGRATION and COLONIZATION

Some Interesting Facts Concerning This Branch of Army Endeavour

By BRIGADIER SOUTHAL

MANY inquiries are being received from the Toronto office, and there is every indication that there will be a big demand for labour on the farms, as well as for domestics. We are tabulating information received from farmers and others, and adopting our policy for the coming season according to the information received in different sections.

At the recent convention of the Western Ontario Boards of Trade at Chatham, some startling revelations were made as to the conditions in various counties in Western Ontario. This showed the appalling fact that many of the farms were not being half worked on account of the shortage of suitable labour. The writer was asked to address this convention, and in so doing pointed out the importance of selection being made by the right people, and in the districts where such labour could be obtained. The President of the New Year address, which not only gave much food for reflection, but was a great inspiration to all present.

The Industrial auto trucks have also been requisitioned by the city to collect second-hand clothing for the men in distress, and the daily parcels are brought which are a great comfort and help to the needy.

Accompanied by Mrs. Otway, I conducted the Salvation meeting at the Hotel on Sunday last. The large dining room was filled. Adjutant White, Adjutant Harpley, Mrs. Staff-Captain Cornish, and Mrs. McGilguy assisted. A most impressive meeting was held. Eleven men lifted their hands for prayer, and five came forward seeking Salvation.

Ontario reports progress. Adjutant and Mrs. Lewis have welcomed a son, and both mother and child are doing well.

Ensign Watford called at Headquarters during the week. She was en route to Hamilton, having in her care young girl offenders. Her work at the Juvenile Court is much appreciated by the authorities.

At Hamilton the City District Committee have taken over the large dining room of the Hotel for beds for the homeless. Adjutant and Mrs. Harding are still in charge and report the Hotel full in addition to this.

Adjutant Beecroft, Quebec, reports that the city, in recognition of the Salvation Army work, have given a grant of $800. This is highly appreciated.

Activity in all departments marks the work of the Men's Social, and the New Year promises to be productive of very gratifying results.

with, and governed strictly by the law of supply and demand.

Our conducted prayers become more popular as their service becomes better known, and judging by inquiries we are continually receiving from all parts of the Province, our friends realize that this is a sure and safe means by which their friends may be brought across the Atlantic.

In this connection, we regret that a number of our Officers do not seem to be more familiar with this phase of our work. We learn that there are Salvationists knocking about there and from the Old Country who are not aware of the facilities we have for leading of assistance at the ports of landing as well as through the personally conducted parties from England. "The War Cry" gives the address in the respective Provinces as to where to communicate. In doubt, write Adjutant (Bridge, 344 University Street, Montreal, P.Q.).

We are pleased to quote from a few letters received within the past few days, and which are altogether unmisleading, from friends who have brought comfort by means of our conducted parties.

"I beg to advise you of the safe arrival of C. on Wednesday evening. We also beg to thank you for the kind and painstaking way you have carried through the proceedings and careful conduct of her passage from the U. L. to S. C."

"I remain,
"Your kindest thoughts of the Salvation Army."

"Mrs. M. S."

"The children arrived safely. We thank you very much for your kind letters in giving them love. Also for the kindness shown to them in their journey by those who had them in charge, as they told us they had been very kind to them."

"Yours sincerely,
"Mr. A."

"Our daughter Dora arrived yesterday all right, and I am writing this to thank you for your care and kindness to her during the long journey from the U. L. to S. C."

Again thanking you and wishing your organization the success it deserves, we remain,

A Valiant Soldier of the Cross

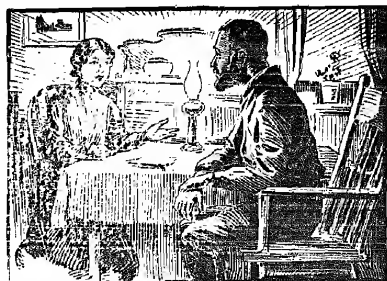

THE STIRRING REMINISCENCES OF A CANADIAN WOMAN OFFICER

By S. A. KIRKSPEN

SUMMARY OF PREVIOUS CHAPTERS.
Adjutant Hattie, a member of the Salvation Army, who had been in the army since the first of the war, was now in the army as a member of the Salvation Army, and was now in the army as a member of the Salvation Army.

When she overtook the very evident fact that it is quite in order to dine out of the house if one is in the army.

He Hattie was him over. "Why don't you stop your hands, father?" she whispered. "I thought you were a soldier now."

Mr. Yerec was much impressed with the fiery earnestness of his daughter.

CHAPTER V.

TESTS OF CONSECRATION.

As Hattie looked at the land in the distance of her own home, and felt the consolation of her life in the army, she knew that it would mean but becoming an Army Officer. She thought of the sternness of discipline that would be hers when she returned the family circle of her childhood, but made up her mind that she would go through it all costs.

An Astonished Family.

Next morning she quietly announced that God had called her to Officership in the Army. For a moment everyone was too astonished to speak, all looking at each other with expressions of surprise and incredulity.

Her older sister was the first to give expression to her feelings. "Could never let her come back home if she goes away with those Army folks, will you father?" she burst out.

But, fortunately, Mr. Yerec saw at once what an un-Christian spirit his daughter was possessed of, and he turned the tide of opposition and stopped further argument by his decided declaration.

"None of my children could I feel like that," he said firmly. "My daughter's eyes are open to them."

Whereupon the older sister tossed her head contemptuously as if to signify her disapproval of her father's attitude, but she said no more. Fearing that people who profess and call themselves Christians can allow such bitterness to fill their hearts against relatives who are called by God to special service. But Christ's servants do all ages have had this to endure. For did not the Master Himself say "A man's foes shall be they of his own household?"

Won't Hinder You.

Mr. Yerec was much impressed with the fiery earnestness of his daughter. "My child, if you feel that you must go," he said. "I won't hinder you."

And from that time on he did all he could to encourage her, and even bought the material for her to make her first uniform.

the bonds of Salvation comradeship and in the joy of lending the Lord's name to victory that they prayed daily that they would never be separated.

To Teach a Lesson.

But the Salvation War could never go on if such prayers were answered, and so, perhaps, to teach them a lesson early in their career, the Lord parted them almost as soon as they started to pray that their own will might be done, irrespective of what were the great purposes concerning them.

One day the Captain announced that she had received a letter from Headquarters saying that Montreal was to be opened, and that all Officers should offer special prayer for God's guidance in the selection of those who were to lead the attack.

"Well, we'll pray about it," said the Captain, and with their arms around each other the four ladies knelt in the Quarters, and besought the Lord to send labourers into the Montreal vineyard.

"But don't touch our little band," Lord," concluded the Captain. "Prayers with our own conditions attached are certainly not pleasing to God, and perhaps a rebuke to the Lord, and in order to really test their consecration the Lord did touch the little band."

and hindering the spread of the Kingdom.

This was something she did not want to be held accountable for, and so, after more prayer, she fearfully announced to the separation, remembering the fact that however dear our comrades in the war become to us we must be willing to sacrifice their companionship at the call of God for wider service. This is the spirit that permeates the Army, and that has carried it to victory in so many hands—that my will but Thine, my Lord, be done.

And so, Hattie went to Montreal, where strange and fulfilling experiences awaited her, and where she realized the ambition of her life, to be to the thickest of the fighting for God and man.

(To be continued.)

THE PEACE OF GOD

There I leave you with, my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, I also give you. Not for your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid—John 14:27

We ask Thee, O Lord! Thy children ask for peace! Not what the world calls peace. That end and all should cease. That through bright sunny hours. Calm life should flow again. And tranquil night should end in smiling day—

It is not for such peace that we need pray.

We ask Thee, O Lord! Ye are not to stand ready. Gift good with iron girdle. Guarded by others' joy. Ourselves by others' tears. Ourselves by others' tears.

We ask Thee, O Lord! Through storm and frost, and snow; Light and globe as one. Through a long struggling life: Shall rise the despised fight, Or never, what the world calls peace. Our peace is in Thy hand. Thy peace through the darkness to the light.

Prayer. O Lord, We tell thee others sleep; Who sleep with loving care. What other hands shall rest? They lean on Thee, O Lord. In calm and perfect rest. Give us that peace, O Lord, Dine and live. Thy peace for those hearts who feel Thy hand.

PRAYER.

O Thou with whom there is no grant, or sun, or moon, or high or low, I thank Thee for the peace. Thy peace, Thy love, Thy joy, Thy rest, Thy life. When it was rough if I but thought of Thee. I felt Thee near, and straight was my strength and glad. When I have lacked for strength, it was my faith. In that I did not trust Thee as I should. Now will I lay me down as in Thine arms. And trust Thee for the night—all time to come. We ask that it may bring; it can but be. The best my heart can wish to live in thee.

A man in anger is like a chariot without a driver, or a ship in storm without a pilot.

THE SALVATION ARMY WITH ITS COAT OF

In 1881, it says, "The Army Flag has been carried forward steadily, until to-day there are few parts of the great Island Continent where the Organization is not known and respected. Even amongst the scattered population of the back country the message of Christ is proclaimed by Salvation enthusiasts, whilst in the more settled localities there are large Corps with imposing and roomy Halls, Local Officers, and Bands, comprising favourably with anything of the kind in any part of the world."

Official recognition of the Army is full and generous in all the States of the Commonwealth, and authorities avail themselves largely at the Organization's assistance in dealing with various social problems. Side by side with the spread of evangelistic work there have been developed far-reaching and effective social undertakings. These include work amongst prisoners, both men and women, for dealing with whom both before and after their discharge from prison the Army has special facilities. Industrial Homes are established in all important centres for these and kindred purposes, and large numbers of men and women are continually being won from vice and crime.

(Work amongst ex-prisoners in Australia has its birth under remarkable circumstances. Many of the early Converts of the Army were men of such notoriously bad character that the public shrank from them, and decent, honest labour denied them. These Converts found themselves in sore straits. To make it possible for them to regain a footing in life the Army furnished a three-roomed house, gave them work, and watched over them until their reputation had sufficiently changed to enable them to secure employment. The fears and dislikes of the respectable public were not wholly ungrounded, for the first eleven men who were taken in hand in such practical and meritorious fashion had served sentences averaging twenty-one years each. Such individuals are not likely to inspire confidence in their docility, honesty, trustworthiness, and self-respect, except after long and severe tests. And long and severe tests these eleven men worthily survived. From that time the work among ex-prisoners was properly organized.)

"Similarly a work of distinct national importance has been in operation for many years amongst boys and girls, and its usefulness is being extended every year. Homes and Colonies are dotted all over the Territory, and from them are being sent forth a steady stream of young men and women noble and upright in character, and fortified to play a useful part in the country's future."

An interesting feature of the many-sided work under Commissioned Hays' direction is that represented in the People's Palaces, or Hotels. These Institutions—outgrowths of the Poor Man's Homes—are now established in the principal centres of population. They are greatly appreciated by the travelling public, and by others needing such facilities as the Palaces offer. Amongst the Officers appointed to each of the larger of these Institutions is a Chaplain, whose duties are exclusively to see to the spiritual well-being of the patrons and workers.

BARLSCOURT (TORONTO)

Fourteen Seekers at Watch Night Service.

On December 31 Ensign Parsons conducted a Watch Night service. The songsters rendered that beautiful selection, "Abide With Me." Cadet Ias Brown and Brother Smith (Senior) gave bright testimonies. Just as the bells were tolling the New Year, in everyone's heart was stirred when fourteen souls went forward to reconsecrate their lives afresh to God. We closed the meeting by singing, "Take my life and let it be consecrated, Lord, to Thee."

During the week-end we had Brigadier Southall to conduct the meetings. We had a real blessed time. God came very near to us. The close of the night service saw two dear boys at the mercy-seat.

WINDSOR, N.S.

Officers Say Farewell for India and New Leaders are Welcomed.

On December 5th we said farewell to our Officers, Captain and Mrs. MacTavish, who have gone to India. During their short stay of five months they made many friends, and we wish them God-speed in their new field of labour. The members of the Home League gave them a farewell tea at the Quarters on December 8th, after which both Captain and Mrs. MacTavish had a few words, expressing their appreciation. We assured them of our prayers on their behalf. At their farewell meeting they enrolled two comrades, Sister Florence Debraun and Brother Frank Eastman. On December 9th we welcomed our new Officers, Captain and Mrs. Fair. We believe that their coming in our midst will prove a great blessing to the town of Windsor. Since their coming here we have had four souls at the Cross. We had our Christmas Demonstration on December 27th, at which we had a splendid crowd—2500.

BRACEBRIDGE.

Home League Sale of Work Restores Good Sum.

The Home League of the Bracebridge Corps held their annual sale of work on December 18, from 3 p.m. until 7 p.m., with splendid results, realising the sum of one hundred dollars.

The numbers here are taking a great interest in the work, and we hope in the New Year to see an increase.

We regret to say that our Treasurer, Mrs. Chamberlain, has been laid aside for some weeks through serious illness. Captain and Mrs. Dowd are here in charge, and have worked faithfully among us—Mrs. Alayes.

WEST TORONTO.

West Toronto had a very pleasant Watch Night service, conducted by Lieut. Colonel Miller, when a large crowd attended. Two souls volunteered in the mercy-seat, and the whole audience rose and reconsecrated themselves to God to start the New Year with desperate faith for the Salvation of souls.

LEGACIES—Will our friends please remember the great and ever-increasing need of the Salvation Army when they are dropping their gifts? For advice on this important matter write to the Financial Secretary, 20 James and Albert Streets, Toronto.

SONGS OF SALVATION

REVIVE US NOW.
Tune—Any Common Measure.
Come Holy Ghost! Come Holy Ghost!
Our hearts with love inspire!
Come and baptize our eager host
With Pentecost's Fire.

CHORUS.
Revive us now, revive us all,
Revive us by Thy power!
Come, promise of the Father, fall
On us this very hour.

Convince each hesitating soul,
Who falls Thy power to claim
That by Thy grace they may be Whole.

Since Thou art still the same,
Let each backslider see his guilt,
His sin how black, how vile,
Thy blood shall be his only sign!

No mercy reconcile?
O Spirit of the Living Lord,
Thyself on us outpour.

We wait on Thee with one accord
Thy presence we implore.
—Major Parker, U.S.A.

MY HEAVENLY HOME.
Tune—My home is in Heaven, 253;
Song-Book, 634.

I have a home that is fairer than day,
And my dear Saviour has shown
me the way!

Oft when I'm sad and temptations
arise,
I look in my home far away.

My home is in Heaven, there is no
parting there,
All will be happy, glorious, bright,
and fair!

There'll be no sorrow, there will be no tears,
In that bright home far away.

Friends I shall see who have journeyed before,
And banded tale on that beautiful shore.

I shall see, Jesus, that will be my joy,
In that bright home far away.

OH TURN YE.
Tune—My Jesus, I love Thee; 185;
Oh turn ye (Adeste Fideles); 199;
Song-Book, 90.

Oh, turn ye, Oh turn ye, for why will ye die,
When God is great: mercy is drawing to nigh!

Now Jesus invites you, the Spirit says "Come!"
And angels are waiting to welcome you home.

How vain the delusion that while you delay!
Your hearts may grow better by staying away!

Come wretched, come starving, come just as you be,
While streams of Salvation are flowing so free.

In riches, in pleasure, what can you obtain
To soothe your affliction or banish your pain?

To bear up your spirits when summoned to die,
Or take you to Christ in the clouds
of the sky?

SALVATION FOR ALL!
Sinners Jesus will receive;
Sound this word of grace to all
Who the heavenly pathway leave,
All who linger, all who fail!

CHORUS.
Sing it o'er and o'er again,
Christ receiveth sinful men;
Make the message clear and plain,
Christ receiveth sinful men!

Come! and He will give you rest;
Trust Him: for His word is plain;
He will take the sinful
Christ receiveth sinful men!

Christ receiveth sinful men,
Even we with all my sin;
Purged from every spot and stain,
Heaven with Him I enter in.
